PRIVACY STATEMENT

Elevent.ly is part of Appendee BV. At Appendee we take your privacy very seriously. Below we'll explain how we handle your personal data.
On our website we use Matomo Analytics to monitor our website traffic so we can make it more user-friendly.

When you fill out a form or request information, we store this information in our database. After we've been in touch with you, this data is removed from the database. In the case that we want to store your data in our CRM, to keep in touch with you, we'll explicitly ask you to opt-in.
If you have any doubts or questions related to our privacy policy, please contact us via privacy@appendee.com
